Fred Standing of the Vulcan Fire Brigade is seen dowsing the edge of the hot barn fire on the Woodman farm. Lack of water hampered hose work by the crew.

Barn Burns At Woodman Farm

One fire truck and four members of the Vulcan Fire Brigade answered a country call on Wednesday night, May 11, when a barn at the Don Woodman farm was destroyed by fire.

Smoke was first seen by Mr. and Mrs. Woodman from the nearby brooder house where they were working and they removed a cow and five calves before they were driven off by the heat. Several chickens and a litter of kittens were the only animal loss suffered, and bales of hay were burned.

Cause of the fire is believed to be from overheated feed.

Neighbors quickly arrived at the farm, located six miles north on the pavement, and the fire department emptied their truck tank and a cattle trough to limit the blaze to the barn. Lack of water for the truck hoses prevented the remains from being extinguished and later in the evening Mr. Woodman with the help of neighbor Alva Love dragged chains through the rubble to spread the burning wood. The water trough was refilled three times during the evening and finally the fire was left to burn itself out.

At 3:00 a.m. next morning a wind from the north fanned the remaining fire and blew sparks towards other buildings. Mr. Woodman spent most of the remainder of the night pouring water to keep the fire down.

A temporary shelter has since been built to house cows for milking and a new barn will be built after seeding operations have been completed.

Called from the Vulcan Department were Deputy Fire Chief Art Scott, Fred Standing, George Richardson and Von Ostergard.

At the time of the fire call the town fire crew were at the Armouries holding their regular meeting. In attendance was Mr. Leland of Lethbridge, District Fire Commissioner who spent the day inspecting business places, accompanied by Fire Chief Bob Johnston.

The two-day rural fire chiefs training course was held late in March and attended by the town fire chief. Held at the Olds School of Agriculture, the course brought together 21 men from towns in the province and they were brought up to date on the standardization of fire equipment.

A special meeting of the Brigade is called for Wednesday, May 25, when films on use of fire hose will be shown.

New Library Proposed

Commercial Building Permits Are Approved

Two building permits for commercial projects were approved at the regular May meeting of the Vulcan town council. They were to M. A. Jesse for a 30x40 concrete block addition to his machinery repair shop, with T. Wierenga as contractor and estimated cost $5,500, and to Bruce Daniels for a 48x40 concrete block tire repair shop on the site of the former Roy Walker implement premises, estimated cost to be $6,000.

One additional permit, to S. C. Lewis for a 14x24 frame and stucco garage, was approved. Alex Rinaldi is the contractor and estimated cost is $500.

Other Business

Bylaw 392, setting the mill rate at 55 for the current year, was given its third and final reading and passed, with Mayor J. L. Findlay dissenting.

It was decided to run a test on the former town water well on the CPR right-of-way. The analysis report of the water at the recently drilled well has not yet been received and further development of this well is held up pending receipt of the analysis.

It was proposed that a portion of the recreational grant from the provincial government be utilized to provide a new library building in town and a committee was named to meet with the library board.

A motion was passed that the town continue, next winter, to use a tractor and snow plow for clearing the sidewalks of snow. Councilors Burchak and Sutherland dissented.

Operation of ambulances in the town was discussed and a motion was passed that drivers of such vehicles would be required to observe the town's traffic bylaws.

The smallest good deed is better than the greatest intention.

A diplomat can tell you where to go and make you look forward to the trip.

Mrs. E. Arme, Early Resident, Dies At Calgary

Vulcan and district residents were shocked and grieved Wednesday, May 11, to learn of the sudden death, in Calgary of Mrs. Ed Arme, earlier that day.

Born at Park River, North Dakota in 1895, Sarah Belle McIntyre came to Canada and the Reid Hill district in 1914 and taught school at the old Sunny Glen School. She was married to Ed Arme, local farmer, the following year and with him continued to reside on the Arme farm until moving to Vulcan in 1925. While in Vulcan Mrs. Arme was active in the O.E.S. and interested in the church and school activities.

In 1948 the Armes retired to Calgary, where they had continued to make their home and where she was a member of Wesley United Church, Daughters of the Nile and the American Women's Club.

Besides her husband in Calgary, she leaves to mourn her, one daughter, Mrs. W. L. (Dr. Mary Catherine Arme) Van Winkle of Pittsburgh, Pa.; a son, Edward of Vulcan; three sisters, Mary Catherine and Agnes of Burbank, Calif.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, from the Wesley United Church, with Rev. J. D. McKenzie officiating. Interment was made in the Burnsland cemetery.

Memorial Award Scholarship At U of A Offered

A memorial scholarship in journalism is being offered for the first time at the University of Alberta in memory of R. L. King, former publisher and editor of the Camrose Canadian.

The scholarship, to the value of $500 annually, has been donated by Dr. Ben King of Vermilion in memory of his father, long-time and distinguished member of the journalism profession in Alberta.

The award will be placed with an undergraduate entering the third year of a general course in arts and science who is interested in a career in journalism.

The scholarship will be renewable for a second year if the holder is registered in a course at a recognized university school of journalism. The terms of the award hinge on the applicant's academic standing, general interests and journalistic experience, if any.

Mr. King, a native of Ontario, migrated to Lomond, Alta., where he edited a small newspaper before moving to Claresholm and later to Camrose, where he died last fall.

Coroner's Jury Finds No Blame

"Alfred Leeson Connolly died at 7:20 a.m. on May 3, 1960, in Vulcan Hospital as the result of a fractured skull and cerebral hemorrhage suffered in a collision between the half-ton truck he was driving and a cattleliner truck at approximately 6:00 a.m., May 3, 1960, on Highway 23 about 215 yards south of the Vulcan intersection. No blame or evidence of carelessness is attached to the driver of the cattleliner truck."

This was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury at an inquest held in the Vulcan Court Room on Wednesday afternoon, May 11, after hearing the evidence of several witnesses. Coroner Dr. A. D. Tompkins presided and members of the jury were B. W. Banks (foreman), R. C. R. Munro, J. M. Wolfe, R. J. Buehler, D. C. Larkins and J. D. Mitchell.

Children's Pike Derby May 23

Preparations are under way for the Vulcan and District Fish & Game Junior Pike Derby on Monday, May 23.

The Derby is open to all boys and girls under 16 years of age, accompanied by parents or guardians.

Trophies and prize money will be awarded winners.

The rules are few in this affair. There are two classes, one for contestants 10 years and under and another for everyone under 16. Two weigh stations will be located at McGregor Park, the only eligible fishing area, and Drummonds farm. These stations close at 6:00 p.m., so if a chap hooks a whale at 5:45 and he's a distance from a weigh point he'll have to run to make the deadline.

Mostly, all any boy needs is a fish pole, an entry form, the right spinner in his kit and a lake full of hungry pike.

THE WEATHER

Seeding is proceeding in a stop and go manner this spring as rain and snow showers continue to hold up operations on the land.

Following a showery weekend, heavy showers hit most parts of the district Monday afternoon and again Tuesday, with snow falling

Malcolm Sinclair Appointed New Town Secretary

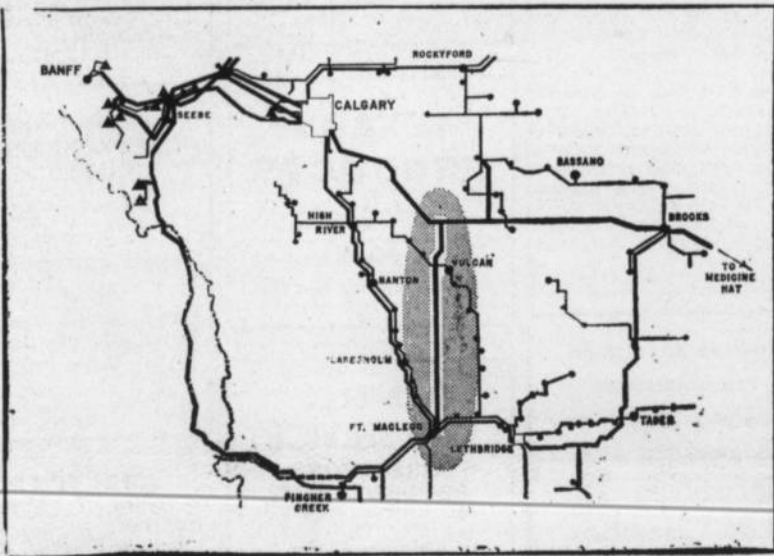

At the regular town council meeting this month, the resignation of Mrs. Edna M. Schrag as town secretary-treasurer was accepted with regret. Mrs. Schrag has served very capably in this position for a number of years. Her resignation is effective the end of this month.

Replacing Mrs. Schrag as secretary-treasurer will be Malcolm K. Sinclair, who comes to Vulcan from Merco, Alberta, where he had experience in administration of the company-owned town.

Mr. Sinclair is already well known in Vulcan and district, first coming here as a young boy in 1915 and receiving his education at the Berrywater and Mayview country schools and the Vulcan High School. His brother, Allan Sinclair, is a well known farmer of the district.

as this was being written Tuesday evening.

It is estimated that seeding in this district is about 30 per cent completed.

THE SHADED AREA on the map encloses the new transmission line to Fort Macleod. Heavy lines indicate the loop from Seebe to Pincher Creek, Fort Macleod and back to Seebe.

Will Improve Service

New 138,000 Volt Power Line Completed

Recent addition to the Calgary Power Ltd., 5,000 mile transmission system has resulted in improved service to a number of communities and nearby towns in southern Alberta. These include the Lethbridge and Fort Macleod districts, Pincher Creek, Cardston, Claresholm and Vulcan.

A new 138,000 volt transmission line from east of Herronton to Fort Macleod was completed and energized on May 3rd by the company. This completes a 138,000/69,000 volt loop from Horseshoe Falls Hydro Plant to Bellevue, Pincher Creek, Fort Macleod and back to Calgary.

In addition to the construction of the line, a new 25,000 KVA transformer was added at Fort Macleod which will improve voltage conditions for an area extending south to the U.S. border, east to Lethbridge and west to Pincher Creek. If the need arises, the area served by this transformer can be extended nearly as far north as Calgary.

The new line will make an additional 20,000 to 25,000 kilowatts of electric energy available for the above territory. Total cost of the 60-mile transmission line, substation and switching equipment amounted to about $740,000.

The substations at both Herronton and Fort Macleod will in the near future be controlled by radio. This will permit 24-hour operation of the control equipment at either point by the operator on duty at the Bearsaw Hydro Plant near Calgary.

Installation of a ground wire make the line virtually lightning

Four Teams In Tournament At Champion May 23

Four teams will compete in the annual Victoria Day baseball tournament at Champion, scheduled for Monday, May 23.

Competing for $150 in prize money will be teams from Enchant, Vulcan, Lomond and Champion, with the first game to start at 1:00 p.m.

Always a popular holiday event, the tournament is expected to draw a good crowd of fans and the CWL will operate a refreshment booth on the grounds.

Love is an ocean of emotion surrounded by expanses of expenses.

proof. In this respect it is similar to the Calgary-Medicine Hat line where the addition of a ground wire reduced outages from 15.6 to 1.1 during a full year period.

PRIZE PONY. The pony, saddle and trappings shown above — apart from the young lady — are the prizes in a raffle being sponsored by the Arrowwood Gymkhana Association in June. Money raised in the raffle will be used to build an indoor gymkhana arena.

DATE OF THE FALL SALE — December 1, 1960

A SPECTACULAR animated sign to advertise Canada's travel attractions on New York's Times Square has been rented by the Canadian Government Travel Bureau for a period of thirteen weeks. The two-panel electronic sign, the only one of its kind in the world, measures 30 x 32 feet over-all and is located over a building at the corner of 46th Street and Broadway. The sign, which shows animated scenes, will feature the vacation attractions of the National Parks of Canada and colorful events and holiday activities in all of the ten Canadian provinces. The sign will be seen during summer by millions of New Yorkers and visitors from the States and abroad. It is estimated that more than a million persons visit Times Square daily. Half of them are from the city of New York, 25 per cent from the surrounding area and the remainder from out of town.

Built in two panels the sign provides an unusual degree of flexibility. The upper panel, known as the Epok animated electronic screen display, features a unique photo-electric lighting system that enables animated scenes to be projected onto its 720 square foot bank of 4,104 light bulbs. The bulbs are activated by photo-electric cells which, in turn, are set off by light passing through a moving picture film. The result is a travel movie, in silhouette form, depicting animated scenes of vacation activities and holiday events in each of Canada's ten provinces. The scenes to be shown include the Calgary Stampede, Highland Games in Nova Scotia, fishing, golf and other recreations, all of which are in full view of crowds who pass through Times Square every day.

On hot summer days a special advertising message will be switched on the screen inviting New Yorkers to exchange their steam-heating sidewalks for Canada's cool lakes and mountains. The lower panel, measuring 9 1/2 x 31 feet is located just below and attached to the Epok animated sign. Constructed of translucent plexiglass, it is brilliantly illuminated from within by grids of fluorescent tubing. In block copy it will carry the current slogan of the Travel Bureau's advertising: "Canada . . . The Wonderful World At Your Doorstep."

CONTOUR STRIP CROPPING

A. D. Smith, Agronomist

Although contour strip cropping is an old conservation practice, it virtually was not practised in southern Alberta until field-scale trials were conducted on three Illustration Stations. The results of this farming method at these locations have shown that crop yields were increased through holding the soil in place and conserving moisture.

Where strip farming is being used as a measure to control soil drifting the strips are laid out at right angles to the prevailing wind.
This method, when correctly used,
has been very beneficial in preventing the loss of soil by wind.
Where the problem of water erosion is serious some thought should be given to laying out strips on the contour.

With contour strip cropping the direction of the strips is governed by the topography of the land.
The strips are laid out across the slopes or along the points of equal elevation throughout the field.
These points when joined together form contour lines, which become the outline of the strips. The steeper slopes form the narrowest part of the strip and the more gentle slopes form the wider parts.
The strips will no longer follow straight lines and will vary in width in relation to the varying slopes that exist throughout the field. Usually exact contour lines are not followed if they curve too abruptly but the strips conform to the contours as nearly as is practical. Where slopes are uniform the strips are parallel.

Contour strip cropping would not be practical on all farm land.
In some cases the land is too level or too rough and annual precipitation is too low to justify this type of farming. However, there are areas in Alberta where water erosion would be greatly reduced with the application of contour strip cropping. Farmers with a water erosion problem should discuss with their District Agriculturalist.

Some people never hit the mark because they never pull the trigger.

SPRAY WEEDS EARLY

Weeds, even when quite young, compete with the growing crop for plant food, moisture and light. Early treatment of weeds with chemicals is, therefore, recommended if maximum yields are to be obtained.

recommended.

A Salute to Alberta's Scottish-Born Pioneers

Piping ashore Saskatchewan River fur brigades at Fort Edmonton — about 1840.

Foremost among many nationalities whose colorful history and significant accomplishment has added lustre and character to the tapestry of Alberta's development are the Scots. Proud, rugged, fearless, these men brought the advance guard of civilization to the land at the foot of the mountains as early as the 1700's, as explorers and fur traders.

Beside the river highways on which they penetrated the wilderness, they established their trading posts: Fort Edmonton, Rocky Mountain House, Fort Dunvegan, Quagmire House, Vermilion, Assiniboine, White Earth, Jasper House, and a dozen others. Here, proudly retaining the dress, language and customs of their native Scotland, they worked—alone and lonely—in the new North West to build the beginning of a way of life we enjoy today.

The Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd.—itself a pioneer in Alberta—is proud to salute the first Alberta pioneers, the Scottish explorers and fur traders.

More Licence Entries

Effective June 1, almost all common traffic offences are going to be recorded on the driver's licence of the erring motorist, including not only infractions of the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act but also infractions of town traffic bylaws.

The following offences will be added to the list of those entered on the driver's licence following conviction by a police magistrate: Driving on the left side of the centre line, passing on a hill, curve or narrow bridge, driving too closely behind the car ahead, turning without signalling properly, changing traffic lanes without signalling, failing to yield the right-of-way at intersections, driving through the red warning light at a railway crossing, failing to stop before entering a highway, making a right or left turn from the wrong lane or into the wrong lane.

We presume that if a driver's record, over a period of time, shows too many convictions on this type of traffic offence, he starts paying larger fines and may be faced with suspension of his driver's licence.

Suspension of a driver's licence is still mandatory when the driver is convicted the third time on a speeding charge. A careless driving charge, when he has been involved in an accident causing damage over $100, can also cost him his licence, as can a conviction on an impaired driving charge. The driver review board of the Department of Highways makes the decision on when the driver gets his licence back.

School zones on the highways are now well marked and the 25-miles-an-hour speed limit through these zones is in effect every school day from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. In towns and cities in Alberta the school zone speed limit is usually either 20 or 25 miles per hour, in effect every school day from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
